Zooming in on our . . .
. . . . 42nd member !

Unfortunately, we didn't have a photo of Bruce Larsen when we published our last newsletter. However, we soon got a photo of him at our June safety breakfast.

We also have a record number of CCPA hats available, more than enough to go to every member of our organization. Just contact Jerry, pony up $10, and voila! . . . You now become a member with an identity!!

PROGRAMS:

July 19 Gary Johnson with AOPA safety program

You've torn open the packaging and pulled out your shiny new Apple iPad (or maybe it is an Android tablet). Powering the unit on for the first time, the image on the screen is just as stunningly rendered as you imagined. You stare into the glow of the capacitive LCD touchscreen and eagerly navigate to the App Store, where you type in the word aviation. At your fingertips, quite literally, results for more than 1,500 apps materialize. Now what? You haven't a clue of where to begin.

The above quote was taken from FLYING magazine, July 2012 issue. In this article they describe 8 apps that pilots should be using right now. Here they are:

CloudAhoy

Developer: Cloud Ahoy Inc. (iPad / iPhone)

Price: free

AeroPad

Developer: Thomas Wana (iPad / iPhone)

price: $3.99

AeroWeather Pro

Developer: Pascal Dreer (iPad / iPhone / Android)

Price: $3.99

Sporty's E6B

Developer: Sporty's Pilot Shop (iPad / iPhone / Android

Price: $9.99

ForeFlight Checklist Pro

Developer: ForeFlight LLC (iPad / iPhone)

Price: $19.90

Spin-a-Wind

Developer: Flying Pilot Software (iPad / iPhone / Android)

Price: $2.99

WnB Pro

Developer: Angell Development LLC (iPad / iPhone /Android)

Price: $4.99

FltPlan.com Mobile

Developer: Keith Gillis (iPad / iPhone / Android)

Price: Free

We know that all of these apps are probably being used by a few of our pilots. However, most of these apps should be used by most if not all of our pilots. We need to get busy and start using these or others that you might feel necessary. Perhaps we need a couple of meetings to discuss and demonstrate up to four of these apps at each meeting.

Is there a way to organize all this. Is there a way to demonstrate these apps on Jerry's big screen at Coldwell Banker. Knowing how to use these apps will make us better pilots.

Clallam County Pilots Association
Board Meeting
July 11, 2012

Approval of Minutes of June 6, 2012: Minutes approved as published in newsletter.
Treasurers Report: Bank balance of $2784.17

Membership: Andy Swartzbacher renewed (Fed Ex Pilot who lives in Seattle)

Programs: We seem unable to get a pilot from Westport to report on their aviation program.

On July 19 Gary Johnson will provide a flight safety program recorded from a Rod Machado AOPA tape.

A number of us are now using i-pads instead of hard copy maps, etc. We need a program or
Two on use of such. It was suggested that Bruce Larson might be willing to do such.

Anyone for a trip to Arlington? So far: no takers.

Interest was shown for finding someone with expertise in glider flying and towing and in Hot air balloons.

Old Business: Public hearing on Lincoln Park trees is still awaiting approval of FAA.

CCPA caps: We purchased 49, sold 20, and still have 28. There are enough hats for all CCPA members, so come and purchase a hat if you have not done so.

New Business: 2012 membership in CCPA is now at an all-time high of 42.

Breakfasts: July 13th and 27th, Aug 10th and 31st, Sept 14th and 28th

Board Meetings: Aug 1st, Sept 5th, and Oct 3rd
