

Dear Aviation Academy Student,

Thank you for your interest in the opportunities that careers in aviation can offer you. Your participation in our program is your first step into a world of fun, challenges, and adventures!

Enclosed on this CD are files from organizations such as the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) and the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association (AOPA). These files are meant to expand on the information shared by our instructors to aid in your understanding of the principles of flight, aviation career opportunities, weather, aircraft, and more. Please be sure to read through them all, and refer to them as often as you need to.

If you decide to take flight training, or if you plan to enter into an aviation career, the Washington Pilots Association can be a great resource of information to start you on your way. Feel free to contact us (see information below) or visit our website often for upcoming events and links to great aviation websites.

Best of luck to you on your future endeavors!

Best regards,

Kevin T. Kelly
